TWIN TOWN NATURE CLUB

The January meeting of the Twin Town Nature Club was held in the Methodist Community House, Monday evening, Jan. 6. The meeting was opened by Fred A. D. Park, who was welcomed with a glad hand after his severe illness. January being the friendly month, the roll call by Flora Murch, secretary, was answered by appropriate quotations and those not present answered "a friend."

Miss Meryle Millette read in a pleasing manner, "Friendship Time," by Alice Booth and Philip Stone gave a talk on feeding stations, urging all to put food within reach of the birds during the snowy months. After an Indian song by Emory Wentzel in costume accompanied by Mrs. O. B. Tracy, came an informal talk on "Indians and Their Customs," by Hugh Pendexter. Norway's author, friend and good citizen of whom she is justly proud.

The charming little Community House, warm and cheery with its open fire and gay with Indian blankets and baskets, made an ideal setting for the interesting lecture and the Indians seen through Mr. Pendexter's eyes were a different people who "not only loved but lived nature."

Copies of our new State song were given the members and with Mildred Curtis at the piano "Maine" filled the hall. A social hour followed, notes were compared and the following birds reported seen since Jan. 1, 1925. Crow, goldfinch, red breasted, chickadee, blue jay, white throated, white necked, pecker, song sparrow, kingfisher and a flock of seven robins the last three named being unusual during the winter. The February meeting will be at South Paris.

TWO KINDS OF RABBITS

R. E. Thompson and Jesse P. Edwards are a. t. bunny getters. They keep out of cedar swamps, as the flesh of the game is not so good as the rabbit running in gray birch growth.

They hunt only the best and walk to and from the gray birch stands.

This was so stated and accepted at the Maine State Hunters' Clearing House in a recent heated discussion.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Stenfeld of Sanford are guests of Mrs. Stenfeld's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Burton Shaw.

The Misses Edith and Margaret Jordan of New York, who have been visiting their sister, Mrs. Lawrence Denison and family, have returned to their respective homes, Miss Edith to Albany, where she is instructor in a boys' school, and Miss Margaret to Potsdam, where she is studying.

Thelma Tracy has been having a week's vacation from her work at W. G. Conary's office.

Mrs. Sara Howe has returned to her home on Pleasant Street.

The Luncheon Club was pleasantly entertained at the home of Mrs. Stuart W. Goodwin, Paris Street. An attractive lunch was served at 1:30 after which the afternoon was devoted to bridge.

Miss Edith Knight, for whom the Children's Building Annex at the Northern Maine Sanatorium at Presque Isle was named at the formal opening of the past week, is the daughter of Mrs. Louis Knight of Norway. She graduated from Norway High School in the class of 1909 and after taking her nurse's course was in New Haven, Conn., as district nurse, and later in Maine as nurse in the hospital. For the past ten years she has been at Presque Isle as district nurse, and it was through her efforts that this new building was erected. As she is well trained in tuberculosis nursing, she has realized what was needed in this part of the State. She has many friends in Waterville, her native town, and Norway, where she is an alumnus.

Abraham Lovejoy Jackson, son of Harry, 12 or 13 years old, caught a fox and got ten dollars for its pelt. That isn't all he caught, either.

The trap was sprung twice and the animal was not held. W. A. Bicknell showed the boy how to do it.

The artistic wire guard-rail fence on the lake road was recently disturbed by a pair of horses and load of wood or logs. It wasn't quite strong enough to hold the pressure and the heavy wire, bending from posts and breaking the wire. Neglect of the driver was the cause of the accident.

Maurice Prince was taken to the C. M. G. Hospital at Waterville where he was operated on for appendicitis. He is getting along well.

Mrs. Fred Staples of Oxford Station was the guest of her mother, Mrs. Laura Thurston, Wednesday.

Walter Eugene Everett says he has an intelligent dog and that his Intelligence Column works quick. He sent an ad. in telling of the loss of his dog and a few hours later the dog returned home. Everett stopped the ad. and the money was refunded hence we lost and he gained. Let your wants be known to our readers. Quick results follow—some times.

Bob McCready has the radio fever and a Federal receiving set has been installed in his house. For months he stalled and gave nothing to do with sets, but he gave the whole idea the laugh. During that time he was reconstructing crippled Fords and visiting the Quaker Inn.

The driver crazy, weary and now messages from the air have replaced the side-wall arguments at the famous club.

A crowd and several robins ventured out during the cold wave. Even a kingfisher found refuge in a tree in Fred Cummings' yard, Friday. On Saturday a mild wave approached bringing some two inches of snow and sleet. Sunday proved ideal with rising temperature and water dripping from eaves. This extended into Monday and proved acceptable.

There was a general exodus of college students, Sunday and Monday after celebrating the holidays at home.

Solve the Cross-Word Puzzle on page 2, and send your solution to the Advertiser Office. A list of those sending answers will be published next week. Send in early.

Mrs. Linnie Bartlett has invited the Wakamie Club to her home for luncheon, Saturday noon, Jan. 10.

Outbound freight has been on the increase at Norway station. Last week four through freight cars, known as hump cars, were shipped west. Before this two cars have been the limit.

Col. A. J. Stearns of Norway has been chosen as the Oxford County member of Gov. Brewster's Council. He is at the Cape City this week.

Kenneth Bartlett, phone 104-5, Norway makes two trips to Mechanic Falls, daily. In the morning he leaves his house at 5 a. m. and in the afternoon he leaves the post office at 2 o'clock p. m. See ad.

The Browning Reading Club will be entertained for their social evening by the program committee at the home of Mrs. Gertrude Hosmer, Paris St., Monday evening, Jan. 12.

The Heath contractor, foundation builder, gasoline wood-saver has a pocket full of poetry. It is the proper thing with the real genius, written by a school teacher in 1919 and commemorates a birth, life, death and hereafter of a commonplace every day pig. This is exceedingly ironic of it and shows it only to favored friends.

BOWLING

Oxford 1391; Norway 1377

Oxford had a successful week at Paris' Bowling Alley and cleaned up Norway in three straight games.

In the first contest Oxford led in two strings and lost the third by only nine pins. Lapham of Norway bowled the highest box at 135. Breton of Oxford chalked up the best individual record for three strings with Smith three pins in the rear. "Stub" Fuller was high single box man for the mill town contingent. The score:

Oxford	Norway
Breton	102 102 97
Smith	84 113 101
Baxter	88 81 85
Heap	91 79 90
Fuller	114 86 83
Totals	477 461 453-1391

Oxford 1411; Norway 1346

The second game was a complete knock-out for Oxford landed in the first string. Norway jumped into the tracks too late for recovery from the opening blast. Oxford started with a tremendous bang and all hands kicked up a regular smoke screen with a 524 total. A slump followed and Norway piddled along in an even keel but not with a winning stroke.

Boynton of the Norway club landed the highest single box mark with Heslop crowding his heels at 123. Heslop 12 or 13 years old, caught a fox and got ten dollars for its pelt. That isn't all he caught, either.

Oxford 1394; Norway 1372

Oxford capped the climax Friday night, and nailed the lid down by squeezing out the game in a lead of 23 pins. The teams kept in close touch with each other until the third string, McAllister and Smith set Oxford galloping away from the locals who were unable to roll beyond the 95 mark.

In this game Boynton again led Norway in a box mark at 114 and McAllister hit the pace at 111. Boynton also proved high starter in three strings with 301, closely followed by McAllister at 293. The score:

Oxford	Norway
Breton	88 88 293
Smith	78 111 104
Baxter	100 90 280

Lodge Activities

Harry Rust Women's Relief Corps held regular meeting, Saturday evening at K. of P. Hall, and plans were made for the annual installation of officers which will take place Saturday evening, Jan. 17, with Mrs. Sadie Lapham as installing officer. Following the meeting there will be a penny social and lunch, and all members not solicited are asked to carry a plate of refreshments. Queenie Saleeby and Clara Ames are the committee in charge. From 4 to 7 o'clock the Corps served Saturday night lunch with excellent patronage, and a goodly sum was realized.

Elizabeth Crockett Blake Tent, Daughters of Veterans will hold regular meeting, Friday evening, at Pythian Hall at 7:30 o'clock. The new officers will be in their places for the first time. At a joint meeting held with Joshua L. Chamberlain Camp, Sons of Veterans, at South Paris, last Friday evening, the officers of both organizations were installed, following a fine supper. The members of the Auxiliary, and the Ladies of the G. A. R. were present. Mrs. Rose Benson Minott, Past Department President, installed the officers of the Tent as follows:

President—Mrs. Ruby Sharon.
Senior Vice Pres.—Mrs. Dickford.
Junior Vice Pres.—Mrs. Maggie Libby.
Secretary—Mrs. Elizabeth Sampson.
Treasurer—Mrs. Lora McAllister.
Committee Members—Mrs. Vesta Smith, Sec. and Press Corp.—Mrs. Tucker.
Guard—Mrs. Hattie Harvey.
Musician—Mrs. Gladys Jones.
Color Bearer—No. 1, E. H. Hussey; No. 2, Mrs. Benson; No. 3, Mrs. Fannie Monk; No. 4, Mrs. Merle Brown.

The installation of officers of Wilsey Encampment, No. 21, I. O. O. F. will take place Friday evening, Jan. 9.

Bob Seaver is putting in a heating plant in the Tavern storage. He is to have a warm place for car storage. He says cars will be coming along all winter and must have a place where they can be housed without freezing.

Mr. Seaver is of the opinion that with a few years all the main roads will be kept open all winter.

IT ISN'T YOUR TOWN, IT'S YOU

If you want to live in the kind of a town
Like the kind of a town you like,
You needn't slip your clothes in a grip
And start on a long, long hike.

You'll only find what you left behind,
For there's nothing that's really new;
It's a knock at yourself when you knock your town;
It isn't your town—it's you.

Real towns are not made by men afraid
Lest somebody else gets ahead;
When everyone works and nobody shirks
You can raise a town from the dead.

And if, while you make a personal stake,
Your neighbor can make one, too,
Your town will be what you want to see—
It isn't your town—it's YOU.

BIRCH DOWEL BOARDS ARRIVE

Some 250 cords of birch dowel boards are coming from C. B. Cummings Sons Co.'s Mechanic Falls saw mill to their factory here.

Five motor trucks and as many horse teams are employed. Percy Keene's Red truck of the Falls is making four or five round trips per day with about one and a half cords to a load and four other trucks with smaller loads.

Those with teams are A. A. Bumpus of Oxford, Bill Smart, Leon Twitcheil, Bert Dwinall, Bill Jackson, Bob Snel and others.

These birch boards were sawed last spring and house dried at the Falls or are now being delivered for their wood supply for next season.

Obituary

Mrs. Irene Farrington

As a result of a shock, Mrs. Irene Farrington, aged 77, passed away Monday morning at the home of her brother in Union where she had been for several months. Mrs. Farrington was taken critically ill on the previous Wednesday, and her sister, Mrs. B. Blake of Norway was called to her bedside.

Mrs. Farrington lived in Norway thirty-four years, the larger part of the time she lived with her sister, Mrs. Maud Bolster and as long as J. Fredland Bolster was undertaker, acted as his assistant. She bought a place in Union, her native town, intending to make her home there. Extensive repairs were contemplated but never completed.

Mrs. Harriet R. Blake

Mrs. Harriet R. Blake, 83, one of Norway's oldest residents, passed away early Tuesday morning after several years of illness. She had been practically helpless since suffering a shock a few years ago, but had retained her faculties in a great measure. Mrs. Blake was born in North Norway, the daughter of Samuel and Hannah Frost Flint.

She married Appleton Blake of Milan where they always lived. Mrs. Blake was identified in the work of the Congregational church and was a teacher in the Sunday School. She was also an interested worker for the W. C. T. U. and a member of the Grange.

After the death of Mr. Blake some 12 years ago she came to Norway to make her home with her brother, Harlan Flint and family. After his death she remained with the family until they left town and since that time she has boarded in a number of different places. Since last summer she has been with Mrs. Sadie McAllister, who has given her every care.

Mrs. Blake was familiarly known as "Aunt Mattie" and will be remembered for her kindly disposition and her many rare virtues. After coming to Norway she was transferred to the local Congregational Church being a constant attendant as long as she was able. She leaves one brother in Massachusetts, a nephew, Leslie Flint, of Norway and nieces.

Services were held Thursday afternoon at Spillers Funeral Home attended by Rev. O. B. Tracy. The remains were accompanied by her nephew, Leslie Flint, to Milan, N. H. for burial.

Mrs. Olive P. Eastman

Mrs. Olive P. Eastman passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. W. Frye, East Conway, N. H., on Dec. 21, after a long period of failing health and feebleness. Mrs. Eastman was born at North Chatham, N. H., Feb. 29, 1838, the daughter of Oliver Perry Chandler and Eunice (Samborn) Chandler. At the age of 18 years she married Mr. Eastman, who was a farmer and lived on a farm for many years. When her husband's health failed some 38 years ago they moved to Kearsarge where Mr. Eastman died three years later.

Several years ago she was laid up by her youngest daughter, Mrs. E. E. Low of Kearsarge, N. H., visiting her other children.

Mrs. Eastman is well known to many Norway people as she has spent many summers in late years with her daughter, Mrs. Alice Nash, and son, Raymond Eastman. Mrs. Eastman was the mother of twelve children, nine of whom survive her besides many grandchildren. The great grandchildren are:

She was a woman of sterling character, a devoted wife, a loving and true mother, and a faithful friend and neighbor, always ready and willing to help others.

The services were at Kearsarge, N. H., Jan. 2 at 1 P. M. Services were conducted by the pastor of the Methodist church of North Conway of which she had long been a member. Geo. Russell sang the beautiful solo, "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere," and she was laid to rest among the many and beautiful flowers that bore silent testimony of the love and esteem in which she was held. Interment in Kearsarge Cemetery beside her husband.

J. Henry Meserve

Word has been received of the death in Huntington, Mass., of J. Henry Meserve, one of the best known engineers in the Boston & Albany Railroad, who died Sunday following a week's illness of pneumonia.

Mr. Meserve, who headed the rating list of the Boston and Albany engineers, was a native of South Paris. When a youth his parents removed to Norway, after going to Huntington, where they have since resided. He was 66 years old and the father of two married daughters.

Mrs. Philena G. Palmer

Mrs. Philena G. Palmer received word of the death of her cousin, Mrs. Philena G. Palmer, who died at the home of her daughter in Taunton, Mass.

Mrs. Palmer was born in Oxford nearly 80 years ago, and after her marriage to Alonzo S. Palmer, a brother of Mrs. Webb Alonzo of Norway, resided in Norway for some ten years when they went to Taunton. She leaves three daughters, two brothers and one sister.

South Paris Locals

Paris Grange

An all day meeting was held by Paris Grange, Jan. 3. An invitation from Hebron Grange to meet with them, Wednesday, Jan. 7, was received. Norway Grange invited Paris Grange to meet with them for a joint installation, Saturday, Jan. 10 and was accepted. Paris Grange to furnish pastry and do the work in the dining room.

All the members of Paris Grange are requested to bring pastry.

A Literary Contest has been started in Paris Grange with F. I. Cummings and P. A. Millett as the captains and it will be held on the second meeting of each month for the next three months. The attendance and dues began with the meeting of Jan. 3. The names were read by the captain of each side. These contests have brought out good attendance in the past and it is hoped it will this year.

S. P. Town Team 65; W. P. Town Team

The South Paris Town Team scored another victory at basket ball in the gym, Tuesday evening, by defeating the West Paris Towners 6

Outside Windows and Storm Doors

The original cost is not to be considered—the saving in fuel soon counterbalances the first expenditure. Their value is permanent.

Outside Windows and Storm Doors eliminate those piercing, sharp winter blasts. They give that feeling of security—like the big fur coat or the winter woollens. The "cold-catching" draughts are shut out—the doctor's bills are cut down.

Our stock of Outside Windows and Storm Doors is complete.

Hon. Morrill N. Packard

Achievement of an Oxford County Man

The Hon. Morrill Nathaniel Packard, lawyer, Justice, author, orator and inventor, was born on May 28th, 1858, at West Paris, Oxford County, Maine, the son of Amos and Lydia S. (Herick) Packard.

The Packards and Hericks are old New England families of English-Scott origin. His maternal grandmother was Maria Garland and his paternal mother was Eleanor Bradbury, also of old New England families of English origin. The founder of the Packard family in America was Samuel Packard, who, with his wife and one child, came to America on the ship Diligence, in the year 1638, and joined the Plymouth settlement.

The founder of the Herick family in America was Henry Herick, who settled in Salem, Massachusetts, in 1639. The progenitor of the Garland family was Peter Garland, who first settled in Chatham, Massachusetts, in 1654. The Bradbury family was founded by Thomas Bradbury, who came to Ipswich, Massachusetts, in 1640.

Among some of the more distinguished members of these families are Robert Herick, the English poet; the late United States Senator Bradbury of Maine; Judge C. Gay of New York; Governor Myron T. Herick of Ohio; Robert Herick and Hamlin Garland, contemporaneous American authors.

It is a noteworthy fact that about two hundred and forty members of the Packard and Herick families served in the continental army from Massachusetts alone in the revolutionary war, among whom was James Packard, great grandfather of Mr. Packard. He was one of four children, three of whom are now living. Besides himself, Benjamin F. Packard of Auburn, Washington State, and Roscoe M. Packard of Baltimore, Md. are brothers.

The family moved from Norway, Me., to Lynn, Massachusetts, in 1879 and then from Lynn to Baltimore in the year 1881. Mr. Packard was educated in the Norway Liberal Institute, preparatory institution, at Norway, Maine, and the law department of the University of Maryland, from which he graduated with the Law Degree in 1888.

After his graduation, Mr. Packard entered upon the practice of his profession, in which he has long been recognized as among the ablest members of the Baltimore Bar. He also served a wide and well deserved reputation for his services as an associate Justice of the Juvenile Court of Baltimore for a period of eight years from 1900 to 1912.

Outside of legal circles, Mr. Packard is widely known for his work in political life both in the state and nation in favor of the higher ideals and practices in the conduct of government. In his home state he was a moving factor in the effort to abolish the iniquitous practices in the factional and partisan control and domination through the election system and laws now in force whereby party nominations and public offices are made and elected in a manner absolutely free from the influence of money or sinister result. It was in the progress of this struggle and in opposition to the adoption of the Poe Amendment to the State constitution whereby citizens could be disfranchised because of ancestral and other causes, that he prepared and published what has been conceded to be the ablest work on the franchise yet written under the title of "The Voter and the Vote" (1904). It was to his ability as a writer, speaker and campaigner that much of the credit is due for the results now before the nation in the election system and other progressive legislation.

Among some of the notable patriotic addresses delivered by him may be noted one entitled "The Minute Men" delivered before the Maryland Society of the Sons of the American Revolution of which he is a member, at the Hotel Belvidere on February 21st, 1914, which was, by reason of the spread at large upon the minutes of the society, ordered published and a copy sent to all the member societies throughout the world.

As an orator, writer or advocate, Mr. Packard is equally effective in his dealing with the question under consideration and brings to its solution a wide study, fine concentration and keen analysis. Strange as it may seem, he is one of the few lawyers who have ever brought credit to his adopted state in this field of endeavor. It was on the 8th of September, 1885, that there was issued to him Letters Patent of the United States for an improvement in Valve Gears for steam engines. It did away with the intricate link motion for operating the valves, located under steam locomotives and provided a simple slot lever control placed on the side of the locomotive just back of the valve and piston. Since this invention principle was invented by him, every steam locomotive in the world, so far as the inventor is aware, is operated by the adaptation of this fundamental invention. The advantages to the inventor have been the simple knowledge that he has contributed this much to the advancement of locomotive construction. It was an invention of first importance and the inventor's genius.

A liberal in his religious views, he holds tolerance to be a fundamental necessity for the peaceful establishment of the brotherhood of man. Believing in the balance plan in the distribution of sovereignty whereby the liberties of the people are safeguarded through the checks of one subdivision upon another provided in the constitution, he has ever contended for the strict preservation of the reserved rights of the states against centralization and holding that "equal rights to all and special privileges to none" to be the equitable principle in the administration of free government, he has ever contended against the theory that it is right to take the dollars of the masses and donate them to the favored ones through a system of protective tariff taxes and accounts this practice with being the Pandora box from which come many of the vicious evils engendering the public welfare and our form of government, therefore he has classed himself as a Democrat.

He was a leader in the movement that placed the Democratic party of his state on its traditional principle of a tariff for revenue only, in 1888, which culminated in the re-election of President Cleveland in 1892 on that issue. In 1906 he married Lenora Virginia Terrier, nee Seltzer, of Baltimore, daughter of the late William H. D. Seltzer, and a niece of the late Judge George W. Lindsey. By her first marriage she was the mother of three sons, one of whom, Stuart McDonald Terrier, served as a Lieutenant in the Navy during the World War and was killed in action. He lost his life on February 23, 1919, off the coast of Virginia, while in command of a sea plane going to the relief of another plane in distress. Her second marriage was to the late Judge George W. Lindsey, who was killed in action at the bloody angle at Gettysburg in the van of Pickett's charge in the person of Major-General Lewis Armistead. He died another name to the galaxy of heroic Marylanders.

Mr. Packard is a man of high personal and professional integrity and exemplifies in his career the broad, tolerant and democratic spirit of the true American idea of free institutions and who does it the duty of every citizen to be a "minute man" in the watchful care and preservation of the priceless heritage of liberty given and preserved by the American principles and plan of government.

SOUTH RUMFORD

Hart-Wyman
The marriage of Miss Blanche Wyman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard A. Wyman of South Rumford, and Hillard S. Hart, son of Dr. and Mrs. Louis Hart of Camden, took place in Watertown, Mass., New Year's day, the double ring service being used. Their attendants were Miss Harriet Desmond of Lawrence, Mass., and Harry Mapes of Saco, both being instructors in Thornton Academy, Saco. The bride's dress was cocoa brown georgette, trimmed with lace and the bride's maid wore brown satin.

Mrs. Hart is a native of this town, where she has always lived. Graduating in 1916 from the High School, she entered Nassau Institute, Springfield, where she completed her course in 1918. Since then she has served as instructor in Home Economics in Thornton Academy for three years and in Orange, Mass., two years.

Mr. Hart was born in Camden and graduated from Camden High School, Dean Academy in Franklin, Mass and Bowdoin College, Brunswick, being a member of the class of 1922 at Bowdoin. Last year he taught in the Abbott School in Farmington and had charge of the school activities. Mr. Hart now has employment with the Wood Rubber Co. in Watertown, Mass., where they will reside.

Daniel Bryant has moved to Virginia and Jack Hughes and family are living in Mr. Bryant's house.

Mrs. Laura Spaulding has returned home after several weeks' visit with her granddaughter, Mrs. Lucille Knight, in Portland.

Mrs. Lee Elliot entertained the Round Table Club, Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 31st, at her home in Saco. Mrs. Elliot was guests, and a delightful afternoon was passed.

WEST STONEHAM
Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hersey and daughter, Bertha, spent Saturday night and Sunday at their home at North Waterford.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Adams and daughter, Jeanette, are staying with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Adams this winter, while he is at work for Mr. Hall, who is operating a mill in Saco, and having the spoil strips hauled across the mountain to John Adams' farm where they can be reached by auto truck in the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. John Grover entertained at Christmas dinner, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. McKee and daughters, Halie and Hester also Mr. and Mrs. C. Lee Andrews and sons, Harry and Donald, of North Lovell.

Gratitude Adams, who is staying with her sister, Mrs. Bert Emery at North Fryeburg to attend school there, has been with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Adams, for a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Barker and son, Edmund, visited her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Andrews, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Mixer of Norway are visiting her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Fogg.

NORTHEAST LOVELL
Joe Fox got hurt in the woods by a limb falling and hitting him on the arm. Margaret Taylor and little son, Philip, and Lena Taylor, called on Mrs. Freeman Andrews, Tuesday.

Herbert Taylor butchered a beef creature and a hog for Mrs. Freeman Andrews, Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fox and children called on Elmer Andrews and family, Sunday.

Elmer Andrews and family have all been sick with colds.

Chester Rowe hauled wood for James Merrill, Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fox, Charlie and John Fox attended the New Year's ball at North Lovell, Saturday evening.

Joe Fox and son, Charlie, have been cutting their ice.

Charlie Fox carried his sister, Cora, back to her school in Casco, Sunday.

CENTER LOVELL
Mrs. Job Barnard

Mrs. Flora Putnam Barnard, widow of the late Judge Job Barnard, of Washington, D. C., died at her son's home, Ralph Barnard, that city, Tuesday, December 23. The funeral services were held Friday, December 26. The body rests beside that of her husband in Arlington Cemetery.

And early places in the cemetery were prominent summer visitors at the Center for many years. Over the door of entrance to their home the Judge had placed the euphonious names, Wassamut. Many will miss their absence.

SICK 3 YEARS WITHOUT RELIEF

Finally Found Health by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Columbia, S. C.—"Your medicine has done me so much good that I feel like I owe my life to it. For three years I was sick and was treated by physicians, but they didn't seem to help me any. Then I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and got strong enough to do my housework. I was so weak before I was hardly able to be up. I have also taken the Vegetable Compound during the Change of Life and it has left me in good health. I recommend it as the best medicine for women in the Change of Life and you can see these facts as a testimonial."

Mrs. S. A. HOLLEY, R. F. D. No. 4, Columbia, South Carolina.

Why suffer for years with backache, nervousness, painful times and other ailments common to women from early life to middle age, when Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will bring relief? Take it when annoying symptoms first appear and avoid years of suffering.

In a recent country-wide canvass of purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound over 200,000 replies were received, and 98 out of every 100 reported they were benefited by its use.

A GOOD SHACK IN THE WOOD

Written for Norway Advertiser
By Fred M. Davis

I'm tired of the city ways,
The bright lights and the town,
The heavy yoke of poverty,
I slowly drag me down.
The days are days of sadness,
That fill me with despair,
They're putting wrinkles on my face
And silver in my hair.
I've dreamed it over well and good,
And kept it on my mind,
I'll build a shack far in the wood
And leave the world behind.
A world where pride is cast aside,
Where selfish greed and each thought and deed
Is a bitter light for gold.
I'll drink from the mountain brook that flows
And hear the wild birds sing,
I'll hear the saving of the crows
Or the whirr of a partridge wing.
Where cliffs are steep and valleys deep,
Have all the years withstood,
Where every act and thought and deed
Are noble, brave and good.
Where the ways of God are learned,
Where men don't trade their morals
For an extra dollar earned.
Where wood folk they will greet me,
Where bills no more I'll see,
Where cruel notes and messages
Are strangers unto me.
With the thrill and joy of freedom,
I'll laugh and wander to and fro,
And claim by right both day and night
The life that belongs to me.
Where peace is king, where deep woods ring,
Where the air is pure and good,
North spruce and pine I'll take for mine
A good shack in the wood.

DECIDEDLY OPPOSED TO INCREASE
An "Up-in-Town" correspondent of a New Hampshire paper has this to say:

"Now I'm mad. I read something today that just set my blood to boiling. And I almost exploded too. I think every right-minded person should set right down solid on the new tax on postal service that is proposed and to be voted on Jan. 6th. They didn't wait to allow much chance for the people to say voting ahead. Now let everyone write their protest against this unjust and abominable tax law. The idea that periodicals, parcels, etc., must pay double and yes, treble postage!

President Coolidge has already put his veto on the proposed tax and any right-minded man or woman should raise his voice and let it be heard good and loud through their senators against such a tax.

A flapper: "No, I won't marry him. He hasn't a pa. I want to marry some guy I could worry about, and then leave him."

INCUBATOR HUNTERS AND DOGS

Recent version of dogs and hunters expressed by George W. Carter at the Weathers, put into verse by an unknown writer—Editor.
What's the matter with the hound dogs
We have with us here today?
Was the question asked by someone
Of the Weathers, so they say.
No one spoke up for a moment,
Glances shot around the room,
Calmly each one looked and whistled
Thinking of the hound dog's doom.
Brusquely spoke up George L. Carter
Raising high his voice and hand:
Here of a thousand words I find
Champion groucher of the land
These are born to hunt and kill
Just as they were in days of old,
By nature they are just the same,
But what about our hunters' hold?
"When they wish to go a-hunting
As they do at the week end,
Clothed in big fur coats with pockets
What's the pockets for, my friend?
Take him in a closed in car,
Just a mile or two, not far,
"Dog, he soon starts up a Rabbit,
Tries his very best to follow,
But alas for the poor hound,
With such a heavy accumulation
Of fancy bread and other food
He appears to be as good
"By the time he's in condition
To give Bunny a good race
Sun goes down, he's fast asleep,
Time our steps now to retrace,
In the car he's heated out,
Back to town the hunters come,
But the dogs are the most proficient,
The dog's all right and I repeat it,
A good as in the days of old,
By nature they are just the same,
But what about the hunters' hold?
And by their teaching they are bound
To develop just a measly
Little Incubator Hound."

PEDDLER OR MERCHANT

The housewife usually regards the peddler who comes to her door as a nuisance. But half the time she encourages him by buying something to get rid of him. She finds it easier in the individual instance, to buy a package of bad needles or a basket of berries or a rubber apron which turns out to be a second than it is to self to argument as to why she should not buy.

Yet if the housewives of a given town were to unite in refusal to buy of the itinerant salesman for a year, they would find, in peace and quiet to attend to their home duties without interruption and to do their marketing according to their own good judgment.

By itinerant salesman is not meant the farmer who makes his annual or semi-annual pilgrimage to his regular customers with his produce, or the self-respecting agent for known magazines who lives in the community and serves a regular clientele. What is meant is the peddler from no one knows where, responsible to no one knows whom, here today and gone tomorrow, selling inferior goods on the strength of an appeal to unwise sentiment.

In one prosperous small city often victimized by this type of person, the merchants got together and issued a statement which may well be heeded here:

"Numerous complaints are being received from housewives who report that they have lost money through purchasing merchandise from unknown house-to-house peddlers. Professional swindlers who go from city to city have victimized thousands of housewives. Merchandise is misrepresented and, if delivered, is often inferior to samples shown. Advance payments are sometimes collected, the peddler vanishes and the merchandise is never received. Investigate before you buy or invest.

"Your responsible local merchants support all civic and public enterprises, pay taxes for the city's development and support, and give employment to thousands of home-town people. You can see them personally for the adjustment of any mistakes.

"You are safe in buying from responsible local stores."

SMALL GRAVEYARDS IN PARIS

By P. A. Briggs
About three and one-half miles from South Paris towards Buckfield on a cross road between the county road from Paris Hill to Buckfield and the road from South Paris in what is known as the Whittemore District on the farm owned by Abel Houtari is a small yard fenced with a stone wall but in a badly neglected condition filled with bushes. There are five graves in this yard, four of them marked only with field stones.
Simeon Briggs, son of Jesse, the Revolutionary war soldier, was born in Paris, September 24, 1784, married Martha Porter of Gardiner and settled on the farm where this yard is located. He was an upright man, highly respected by all. He had a family of seven sons and two daughters. He died, January 19, 1854, and is buried in this yard. A flat stone is the only marker. So far as the writer can learn, only one grandchild is now living in this state. Mrs. Waldo Pettengill of Rumford Falls. His sons, with the exception of the oldest one, all settled in Lawrence, Mass.
Martha Potter of Gardiner married Simeon Briggs. She was born March 27, 1789. After the death of her husband, she went to live with her sons in Lawrence, Mass.
Esther, daughter of Simeon Briggs, was born in Paris, May 8, 1814. She was a young lady of great promise but died of consumption, March 20, 1890. She is buried in this yard. A flat stone marks her grave.
Daniel Eaton, son of Simeon Briggs, was born in Paris, March 7, 1838; his health was always very poor; he died of consumption, May 29, 1893 and is buried in this yard. A flat stone marks his grave.
Simeon, son of Simeon Briggs, was born in Paris, October 23, 1890. He was never married but died at South Paris, January 16, 1907. There is a G. A. R. stone to his grave with the inscription:
SIMEON BRIGGS

The mid-winter number of the Los Angeles Times has arrived. We haven't counted the number of papers but there are many. The paper weighs a little less than two pounds and postage on it was 24 cents. Harry Andrews, ancient of the Lewiston Journal, is its business manager having been on the paper more than a third of a century. Harry Ames formerly of this town is employed on the Times.

Gardner High School will play the boys' team at the high school gym, Saturday evening, Jan. 10. The visitors are fast runners under the coaching of Frank (Cyk) McGinley of South Paris, who is a teacher and Athletic director at Gardner High School. The down-street team will also play at South Paris, Friday evening. A dance with Shaw's orchestra, will follow the game Saturday evening.

Riley Ripley has harvested ice at Lake Umbagog and filled his houses along the lake shore. Cakes were some fifteen inches thick and unusually clear. Mark P. Smith has blood poisoning in the forefinger of his right hand. Infection started in a slight bruise which passed unnoticed at the time it was made.

Meetings of the Wednesday Evening Club of the Congregational church will be changed to Thursday evening, hence the club's name will be changed to meet new conditions. The friendly challenge issued by the men of the Methodist church has been accepted. The contest will be held at the high school gym, Wednesday night, Jan. 14, which will be open to the public. Some exciting situations are expected.

Agricultural Class Notes

Kenneth Aldrich and Barton Files have been transferred from South Paris High School and entered the class this week.

The class will be represented at the Western Maine Poultry Show next week. A display from the experimental pen is among other things planned.

A series of charts containing reproductions of photographs showing the combined action of various crops raised with and without fertilizer.

A sectional bookcase has been added to the room equipment where approximately 800 government bulletins are available to students and others seeking information.

The "Aggie" basketball team is in practice with a brace of candidates including "Fat" Rogers, "Jimmy" Smith, Freddie Lewis, Lester Richardson, Howard Deoster, Mark Smith and Sheridan Truman.

This week Seniors are studying "Fertilizing Orchards" in relation to projects carried on by the members.

Juniors and Sophomores are deep in competitive plucking of poultry. First, only, by laboratory work, studying birds from the boys' flocks thus making close competition. Breeding ratios are also considered.

The Freshmen are studying different kinds of grasses, rate of seedling per acre time to cut and different ways of curing the grasses for hay.

The experimental poultry house is showing a net profit. In spite of intensely cold weather and weekly change of feed, from Nov. 1 to Jan. 6 twenty dozen eggs have been sold, netting $4.10.

Profit after grain and appliances have been purchased. Within a few weeks the birds will become members of a breeding pen and all eggs kept for the incubator. Day old chicks with royal blood will be sold sometime in March.

Looking out of the window and inquiring: "Who's that getting out the team?" "I don't know," was the answer. "It's either a Knightly or a Finn. I can't tell which."

We notice that a business man at Norway Lake gets on with a telephone but has a radio in his house. We wanted to talk with him the other day and was told he had no phone.

Also a small one for interest. The Colonel isn't fully convinced that his mail is being delivered and lost but concluded it was easier to pay than to convince us of this. This shows him to be a wise man.

Monday night, Jan. 12, the Pythian hall at 6.30 served a public supper at the music will be furnished. At this time the quilt on which postal cards have been sold will be given away. A large crowd is expected.

If you have an item—even so deadly personal as to kill you by your name was attached—call 119-11 and tell the office. News is always wanted. Don't forget that. News and subscribers wanted.

Kenneth C. Gurney returned from Boston last week and stopped at his sister's, Tuesday, he left for Portland for a sojourn at Maine General Hospital as a patient of Dr. Chas. Cragin. Kenney is afflicted with a bad case of hernia.

F. E. Davis of South Woodstock and wife attended the Pomona Grange meeting, Tuesday, as did many others from that vicinity.

Rev. N. R. Pearson officiated at the funeral of Lewis E. Monk and Winfield S. Carbird held at South Paris, Sunday afternoon.

Verne E. Knightly, a member of the Oxford County Boys' Club, received third prize at Orono for garden products in the State contest.

W. E. Everett is running his sawing outfit again after being housed two weeks with gripe, distemper or whatever it may be. Anyhow the disease was a knock out and left an impression that is still with him.

Herman Mason of Bethel was in town, Tuesday, attending Pomona.

Alexander Chapman of South Paris assisted in the choir at the Congregational church, Sunday morning.

Of Interest to the Whole Family C. M. P. Dividend Check Comes Regularly every three months

DIVIDEND CHECKS amounting to $160,136.72 were mailed out Thursday morning, January 1, to the 12,231 stockholders of Central Maine Power Company as quarterly dividends on their Preferred Stock.

Company Pays 73rd Consecutive Dividend

For 73 consecutive times—first to a mere handful and then to one thousand, five thousand and now to over twelve thousand—Central Maine Power Company has always been able to pay its dividends from earnings and always on time.

Even during the greatest war of all times—the greatest inflation—the greatest deflation—Central Maine Power Company paid dividends regularly every three months.

These dividends have been going out without interruption for the past 19 years. Over two and one-half millions of dollars in Preferred Stock dividends have now been paid to Maine people by Central Maine Power Company.

Just so long as Maine homes and industries continue to use lights and power; just so long as new uses are found for electricity, and just so long as Maine rivers flow to the sea to produce this electricity then just so long, we believe, will Central Maine Power Company stockholders continue to receive their dividends four times each year.

The next quarterly dividend is due on April 1. Why not invest a part of your savings to get in line for a share of this money?

At least send in the coupon so that we may mail you one of our "Your Share" booklets. Whether or not you intend to invest now, it contains some information that you, as a Maine citizen, should be interested to know.

ONE OF THE SAFEST MEDICINES KNOWN

A family medicine, one kept in the house with children, should be harmless if an overdose is taken—but few of them are and household tragedies frequently result. One feature which makes for the long standing and constantly growing popularity of Ballard's Golden Oil is that while always effective, it contains no poisons or alcohol and if an overdose is taken, it does no harm, being over medicinal oils and gums.

Ballard's Golden Oil owes much of its healing properties to absorption and is taken inside and rubbed on outside quickly reaching the "sick spot," the inflamed tissue. Just at this time of the year it is much in demand for coughs and colds. It is especially good for croup. Relieves rheumatism, sciatica and nothing better for a lame back. All drug and general stores.—Adv.
